

Call for Papers

First Conference in Behavioral Economics and Financial Literacy

November 28-29, 2016

UOC Universitat Oberta de Catalunya, Barcelona (Spain)

We invite submissions of papers on all aspects of behavioural economics and financial literacy, to be considered for presentation at the inaugural conference in Behavioural Economics and Financial Literacy (BEFL). Submissions may be in the form of completed papers or extended abstracts.

The aim of this conference is to bring together both empirical and theoretical researchers on all aspects of behavioural economics and financial literacy. We welcome papers that examine the financial decisions of individuals, groups and organizations, and the interaction between financial literacy and behavioral economics. We also encourage submissions from all other areas within behavioural and experimental economics.

BEFL 2016 will take place on the campus of the Universitat Oberta de Catalunya (Barcelona). The program will span from the morning of November 28 to the afternoon of November 29, and will comprise two keynote speeches in addition to several paper presentations. It will offer ample opportunity for discussion and interaction.

Online submission is open. Full papers and extended abstracts can be submitted in PDF format until October 10, 2016.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Professor Masao Ogaki, Keio University, Japan

Professor Morris Altman, University of Newcastle, Australia

PAPER SUBMISSION

Researchers interested in presenting a paper are requested to submit a one-page summary (extended abstract) and, preferably, a full paper latest by October 10th, 2016. Please send your submissions to beflconference@gmail.com. We encourage researchers to submit their abstracts before the deadline if possible, and will inform them of our decision within ten days of submission.

CONFERENCE FEES

There is no registration or conference fee for accepted papers, but participants are responsible for their own travel and accommodation expenses.
